Contemporary education needs a change. It needs a new paradigm adapted to the changing conditions and opportunities. We will present a mobile approach to social education as an innovation worth disseminating in schools, universities and non-formal education centres

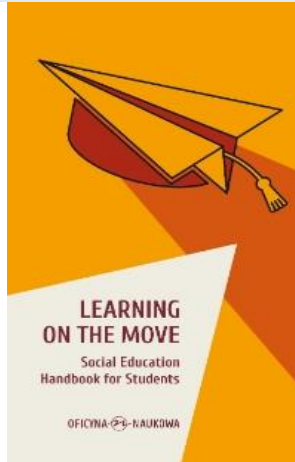

Erasmus+

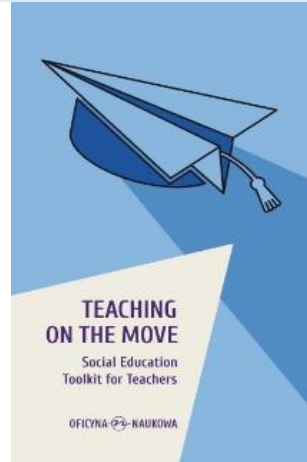

during the conference. It is an innovation developed in international cooperation with partners from 10 countries. The University of Zielona Góra is the leader of this undertaking. We encourage students, teachers, and social and cultural animators to actively participate and share their impressions and experiences. In an open exchange of opinions, we can step towards the change we need.
